Step back in time to California's oldest existing commercial winery. Buena Vista Winery was established by Agoston Haraszthy, a Hungarian nobleman who arrived during the Gold Rush. Over the course of 150 years, the original stone building had fallen into bankruptcy and disrepair, until 2012. The newest owner the Boisset Family, of Burgundy, France, decided to restore the historic Champagne cellars to their heyday glory. The entire process spanned a year, and included ivy removal, replacing cracked and deteriorated stones and retrofitting the building.
