

Organic authority

The 131 Best Organic Wines for 2018 (Plus: Sipping Tips from Wine Experts)

JANUARY 24, 2019 by DONNA SOZIO

It's been a banner year for organic, biodynamic, and wines made with organic grapes. Bottles are winning awards, topping lists, and taking the spotlight.

Ann Arnold, owner of OrganicWineExchange.com notes that "It's important for consumers to realize that organic and biodynamic wines don't get judged by a classification of their own just because they are produced differently. They are rated in magazines and judged in wine competitions alongside all wines in their respective classification. And they are performing remarkably well!"

Whether you are new to organic and biodynamic wines or a seasoned aficionado, this guide will help you curate the perfect wine for your palate and start building an enviable wine collection. To give you the best advice, we went to the wine experts to give you the insider knowledge to navigate the incredible number of choices in organic, biodynamic and wine "made with organic grapes".

2018 Organic Wine List

This list of organic, biodynamic and wines made with "organic grapes" features unique varietals from around the world, excellent value wines, and emerging wine regions along with traditional ones. You'll also find three delicious biodynamic orange wines to try. All the wines are numbered for easy reference but do not reflect ranking as you'll find a variety of wonderful wines from all over the world at every price point.

White Wine

15. DeLoach Vineyards Estate Chardonnay, Russian River Valley, 2015, $50

Red Wine

48. DeLoach Vineyards Estate Pinot Noir, Russian River Valley, 2014 $70 (Gold, Sommelier Challenge International Wine & Spirits Competition 2017)