News Briefs:

•Boisset Collection's DeLoach Vineyards has released its first sparkling wine, Le Royal. The wine is a 2015 vintage blanc de noir sourced from the Charles Heintz Vineyard in California's Green Valley appellation in the Russian River Valley. The méthode champenoise sparkler spent two years aging on the lees before bottling and retails for a suggested price of $75. Last year, the Boisset Collection was up 4% overall to 875,000 cases in the U.S. Earlier this year, the company debuted a new JCB Spirits range of upscale vodkas.
