

6 GREAT DOG FRIENDLY WINERIES IN THE NAPA VALLEY

BY LOUISE VERON

January 2016

You are dreaming about an escape to wine country and spending your day sipping some delicious wines in the sunshine... But there is a problem: you don't want to leave your furry friend alone at home or in the hotel waiting for you.

No need to worry, the solution you need is right here! We have selected 6 amazing dog-friendly wineries in the Napa Valley. Bonus: they all allow dogs in the tasting room (on a leash), so your pooch will always stay by your side!

So don't just dream about that tasting, make it happen with your K-9 companion. Isn't life great?

- Frenchie Winery, at Raymond Vineyards in St Helena:

Dogs allowed everywhere.

Frenchie Winery, owned by Jean-Charles Boisset, was created after his French bulldog "Frenchie", which can be seen everywhere in the winery. Dogs have their own outdoor shaded dog suite, complete with a wine barrel bed and filtered water. You get it; dogs are kings here.

Fun Fact: While sipping your wine in the Tasting Room, you can watch your dog playing outside thanks to the 'Frenchie Cam', a wireless video monitor.

There you have it. 6 dog-friendly wineries to make your next trip to wine country with your favorite furry friend possible. Finally, wine tasting has gone to the dogs!
