

By the incredible team of Jean-Charles Boisset and Gina Gallo, The Ink House is truly singular. Located on an incredible property in St. Helena originally owned by pioneer Theron H. Ink, this beautiful home is surrounded by lemon trees, mountain views, and, of course, millions of grapes. This historic property is home to many magical additions, including an incredible barn - ideal for evenings watching the sunset, nights of dancing with friends, or even a picturesque dinner party. If you're a sucker for some mystery and old-world glamour, the hidden speakeasy underneath the property is a true treat, filled with secret references to the home's past, the perfect spot to indulge in a cocktail after a day with friends.

Relax and let the peace of the Napa Valley wash over you in this incredible space, a perfect mix of California style and Italian elegance. Open access to a thoughtfully stocked kitchen will make you feel at home, and guests get the chance to taste delicious homemade meals from gourmet chefs paired perfectly to their taste. Gather in the open-concept kitchen and watch as incredible chefs prepare a meal to remember, it really doesn't get much better.

Explore the valley with the incredible guidance of those who know it best, the stress of choosing the best places to visit completely eliminated. Allow the team to plan the ideal stay for you and work hand-in-hand with Ink House to select exclusive experiences, private tours, and incredible tastings throughout Napa, completely tailored to your preferences.

This is a visit filled with laughter, extraordinary surroundings,

JEAN-CHARLES BOISSET'S INK HOUSE IS THE LUXURY INN YOU NEED TO ADD TO YOUR NEXT WINE COUNTRY TRIP.

WORDS BY EMMA UNGARO

The Ink House is not a boutique hotel. It is not a luxury inn, a bed and breakfast, or even a guesthouse. Ink House can't be confined to any of these labels because the experience of this one-of-a-kind stay is much, much more.

For someone who has never been to Napa, or even for someone who has been countless times, The Ink House experience is not one to miss. This is more of a home than a hotel, and stepping inside the beautiful space you will be welcomed like an old friend that has come to stay. Visit the Ink House if you want to experience Napa like a local, guided by thoughtful hosts with years of experience on the hidden gems, must-visits, and true insider experience on everything Napa Valley has to offer.

“Where Norman Rockwell meets Alice in Wonderland” new friends, and genuine connection. Feel like part of the JCB family here, an insider, a true Napa local. Stay once and you won't be able to resist coming back, it's the type of place you can truly feel at home. With the option to stay with a small group of other guests or the ability to reserve the property for your own group, the Ink House stay is completely customizable. Visit with friends and family and spend a week like Napa natives, making The Ink House your home away from home, or choose to escape with a small group of VIP guests and the experience will leave you with a group of true friends.

Each experience curated to perfection, every hour of this stay was filled with excitement, fun, and genuine enjoyment. From quail eggs and caviar in the sun-filled atrium, corking our own wine blends, and wandering the gourmet market, this is how everyone should visit Napa. We left feeling like we could confidently recommend hidden gems to friends back home and carry a conversation with a Napa local about the valley, something that you can't get just anywhere. Anyone can go to Napa, but the Ink House gives its guests something entirely different, the chance to know Napa, and that is truly priceless.
