

The Agenda: This Fall in Wine Country

By Annette Hanami / 10/06/16 at 7:49 am / 0 Comments

Fall Is For Film

The 6th annual Napa Valley Film Festival takes place November 9-13 with over 120 new independent films including exclusive screenings of award season contenders. In addition to daily screenings, guests have the opportunity to hear or mingle with over 300 filmmakers at industry panels, celebrity tributes, posh parties and winemaker dinners.

Highlights include the Celebrity Tributes night on November 10 featuring Domaine Chandon Rising Stars Zoey Deutch and Glen Powell, Raymond Vineyards Trailblazer Chloe Grace Moretz as well as Dev Patel, whose award season contender Lion is being screened at the film fest. Empire fans can look forward to seeing film and TV producer and director Lee Daniels honored as Charles Krug Legendary Filmmaker. The evening will be hosted by Access Hollywood's Natalie Morales and Kit Hoover. And on Saturday November 12, attend Napa Valley's own red carpet affair at the Awards Ceremony followed by the Festival Gala.

Screenings and events take place at 13 venues throughout Napa Valley. Multi-day passes range from $125 pp to $625 pp; single day passes and multi-ticket discounts are also available. All-access VIP Patron passes start at $2,500 pp. Check the Napa Valley Film Festival website for details and to purchase passes.