

SF: 9 Haute Wine Country Happenings You Can't Miss

A photograph of an aerialist performing a handstand on a thin wire. The performer is wearing a black and white striped leotard and a long, flowing blue skirt. She is upside down, with her legs spread wide and her arms extended downwards. The background is a brightly lit circus ring with a red and white striped tent structure.

You can always count on an over-the-top time at Raymond Vineyards and this is the winery's most anticipated event of the year. Proprietor Jean-Charles Boisset, winemaker Stephanie Putnam and winegrower Eric Pooler will be on hand to orchestrate a day of celebration that features the 2012 Generations expertly paired with gourmet culinary selections. You'll also enjoy a special library selection pulled from deep with Raymond's cellars and will get to glimpse into the future with barrel samples of Generations Cabernet.
