

Napa Valley Register

Napa Valley Film Festival announces film line-up

For the Register Updated Sep 27, 2016

NOV 9 - 13, 2016

The Napa Valley Film Festival has announced its line-up, special events and celebrity attendees. The five-day festival will take place in 13 screening venues in Napa, Yountville, St. Helena and Calistoga, Nov. 9-13.

"We're excited to welcome everyone back to Napa Valley for another year of outstanding cinematic storytelling," said Marc Lhormer, Co-Founder/Artistic Director. "On top of another great batch of films, our team and partners have collaborated on a series of memorable and surprising special events, as well as an incredible array of food and wine experiences. We expect this to be an epic year."

Notable celebrities expected to attend include Jessica Biel, Ian Bohen, Josh Charles, Aaron Eckhart, Gordon Getty, Meredith Hagner, Katie Holmes, Sam Huntington, Sam Jaeger, Alex Karpovsky, Rose Leslie, Julia Louis-Dreyfus, Joel David Moore, Matt Ross, Wyatt Russell, Madeline Zima and many more.

For a full lineup and ticket information, visit NVFF.ORG or 226-7500.

Celebrity tributes

Napa Valley Film Festival Co-Founders/Directors Brenda and Marc Lhormer have announced this year's line-up of celebrity tributes. Previously announced honorees include Zoey Deutch and Glen Powell, who will each receive the Chandon Rising Star Tribute and Chloe Grace Moretz, along with newly announced Dev Patel, who will each receive the Raymond Vineyards Trailblazer Tribute.

This year's Spotlight Tribute recipient is Viggo Mortensen. The Charles Krug Legendary Filmmaker and Actor Tributes will be presented to acclaimed filmmaker Lee Daniels and actor Kurt Russell, respectively.

The Celebrity Tributes will take place on Thursday, Nov. 10 at the Lincoln Theater in Yountville and will include video highlight reels and intimate on-stage conversations with Access Hollywood's Natalie Morales and Kit Hoover.