

iStock

WINE

What to Drink Now: Wines for Chardonnay Day

A toast to this international favorite.

Chardonnay reigns as the go-to white of the world due to its crisp, lively, vibrant, and lush makeup. People love it. Consider one of these on this Chardonnay Day—celebrated the Thursday before Memorial Day. (Some wines were sent for editorial consideration and all are available at Total Wine unless noted otherwise.)

Chardonnay shines in Sonoma. Cooling winds blow off the San Francisco Bay, through the Petaluma Gap and up the Russian River ensures freshness is always present. Consistent favorites like Jordan, Ram's Gate, Buena Vista and Ferrari-Carano deliver elegant, approachable wines.