

natalie maclean

wine reviews & ratings

Why Do You Like the Wines You Do? Video

March 24, 2018 Natalie MacLean Leave a comment

Why Do You Like the Wines You Do?

Become THE Wine Expert Among Your Friends: NatalieMacLean.com/Expert

In their new book, Passion for Wine, our guests answer that tough question:

“Why do I like certain wine styles and not others?”

They do it through a simple, but brilliant “Spectrum of Style” and powerful infographics to help you understand this and other wine questions.

Marnie Old is an award-winning writer and sommelier.

Jean-Charles Boisset is the head of his family’s collection of world-respected wineries in both France and California.

And they join me live now from the Buena Vista winery in Napa Valley: Welcome to the Sunday Sipper Club Marnie and Jean-Charles!

What was the trigger — the exact moment — when you decided to create this book? Where were you? What were you talking about or what was happening?

Tell us in a nutshell what this book is about?

How can we use your Spectrum of Style to pinpoint the types of wines we like (and don’t)?

What was the most surprising insight you discovered while writing this book?

What was the most difficult or challenging part of writing this book?

For those attending, what are your favorite tips for getting the most from the California Wine Fair?

Let’s Taste!

Briefly, how does your Spectrum of Style work?
Which wine would you like to start with for this tasting?
Where does it fit in your spectrum? Why? Surprising food matches for this wine?

PASSION

THE FRENCH IDEAL AND THE AMERICAN DREAM

FOR WINE

JEAN-CHARLES BOISSET
& MARNIE OLD