Buena Vista history progressive dinner

According to George Webber, aka the Count of Buena Vista, the Buena Vista Winery presents a Progressive History Dinner tonight, July 28 with local actors performing as Count Agostón Haraszthy and his two sons, Arpad and Attila.

For the "dinner performed in three acts," Chef Victor Scargle will make appetizers of truffled devilled eggs, and Petrossian caviar blinis, and sautéed Sting Ray. Dinner will be sautéed foie gras with garden berries and arugula brioche, followed by Akaushi beef striploin with wild mushrooms and baby carrots, and gougères with épaisse and fig jam, all with Jean-Charles Boisset's best wines. Should definitely be interesting and fun. $120 public, $100 club members. 6 to 9 p.m. Tickets at 800-325-2764.
