San Francisco proudly bears a reputation as one of the most diverse and quirkiest cities in the US.

The city and the neighboring Silicon Valley are the epicenter of global technology; there is a strong cultural presence with world-class museums and art galleries; its Chinatown is the oldest and largest in the US. There is no shortage of incredible sights in and close to the city, including the Golden Gate Bridge, Alcatraz and the nearby Muir Woods, home to an ancient redwood forest.

It embraces its unusual weather — there's a famous quote that says, "The coldest winter I ever saw was the summer I spent in San Francisco" — and its denizens have even named the fog, which goes by the name Karl. If Karl is visiting, you'll need to have an opulent hideaway. You're sure to find exactly what you're looking for in our roundup of the city's most over-the-top suites.

If you don't have time to get to Napa Valley, be sure to visit the JCB by Jean-Charles Boisset Tasting Lounge. (Boisset has won numerous accolades including being deemed one of the 50 most important people in the wine world for over a decade.) The dark and sexy space is awash with purple velvet, gold accents and more chandeliers — it's the perfect space for an intimate wine-flight tasting.
