Is there a better holiday than national wine day?! Nope.

This Memorial Day Weekend, we're saluting the red, white and rosé! We're not alone in our love for vino, many a celebrity has gotten into the wine game over the years.

John Legend

What could be better than pairing a Chrissy Teigen recipe with a John Legend wine?! In 2015, the Grammy winner partnered with Raymond Vineyards to launch the Legend Vinyard Exclusive collection, which includes Chardonnay, Cabernet Sauvignon and a Red Blend. And, because John Legend is good at everything, all three bottles received a 90 point or above rating from Wine Enthusiast. All of me loves all of you 🍷🍷🍷.
