

New journeys for the Napa Valley Wine Train

REGISTER STAFF

The Napa Valley Wine Train has added several new experiences. They included the expansion of its Quattro Vino tours, which offer culinary and wine adventures featuring stops at three Napa Valley wineries, beginning on Thursday, June 15.

In addition to its day time experiences, the Napa Valley Wine Train will introduce Twilight Private Tours, an evening train journey to Raymond Vineyards or Grinch Hills Estate. Twilight Private Tours include appetizers and wine tastings on board as well as dessert and coffee on the return journey after dinner at the winery, open only to guests of the Napa Valley Wine Train.

The new Twilight Private Tours are scheduled to launch on Friday, July 14. Tickets for the Twilight Private Tours start at $339 per person and are only available on Saturdays, with availability dependent on other experiences. Passengers will depart the train station at 5:45 p.m., arriving back at the station at 10:15 p.m.

For more information and reservations, call (800) 427-4124 or visit <http://winetrain.com/package/evening-winery-tour/>.

Quattro Vino tours, launched in June 2016, begin with a sparkling wine tasting, followed by a four-course Napa Valley-style meal and tastings at three of Napa's iconic wineries on each tour. After departing from the station at 10:15 a.m., guests arrive back at the train station at 4:15 p.m. The Legacy Tour will include tastings and tours at Robert Mondavi, Charles Krug and V. Sattui, the Estate Tour will include tastings and tours at Domaine Chandon, Hall and Inglenook, and the Collective Tour will include tastings and tours at Raymond, Beringer and St. Supéry. A fourth tour's name and wineries will be announced later.

Tickets for each of the Quattro Vino tours start at $329 per person and include train fare, the meal, and tours and tastings. For reservations and more information, call (800) 427-4124 or visit <http://winetrain.com/quattro-vino-tours>.

J.L. SOUSA, REGISTER FILE PHOTO

The Napa Valley Wine Train.

