Kids' Corner by Ann van der Merwe

Together in Worship

Most of us spend our time with people who are like us in some way – people with the same interests, people with the same likes and dislikes, or just people who are about the same age. That is natural, of course, and it can be a great way to find lasting friendships.

But God also wants us to be around people who are not like us – and he wants us to see our differences as a good thing. In Corinth, men and women were in worship together for the first time. Men and women are different, of course, and God created them that way. But our scripture tells us that their differences are to be celebrated – together.

Take a moment while you are in worship today to look around and see the different people around you. Celebrate what makes you different, and remember what makes you the same – your faith in Jesus.

Soul Food: A Word from Peter

Short Sighted

And every women who prays or prophesies with her head uncovered dishonors her head...

- 1 Corinthians 11:5

Many years ago I spent a summer in the Philippines serving as a missionary. I travelled around the islands, preaching in remote villages.

After a week or two, I realized that people weren't listening to me. They seemed distant and distracted. I wondered: was something wrong with my preaching?

Finally, my host took me aside and explained: "It's because you are wearing shorts. In the Philippines, men never expose their legs by wearing shorts."

Immediately, I began wearing long pants. The difference was amazing! Suddenly, people seemed friendly and attentive. It had nothing to do with my message – it had everything to do with the shorts!

In our scripture this morning, Paul says that women should cover their heads during worship. It wasn't a moral absolute or a command of God. Rather, Paul was trying to be sensitive to the culture in Corinth. In that culture, women who did not cover their heads were considered to be prostitutes or sexually immoral.

As Christians, we need to be sensitive to our culture. Otherwise, we create a barrier that prevents people from hearing our message.
