March Forth!—Taking Hold of Key Promises

Text: Exodus 12:3; Acts 16:31; Jeremiah 31:17; 1 Peter 3:1, 2, 7

Today's Big Idea: God has a _____ for my family and loved ones. My own salvation in Christ is just the _____ of a great flood of grace that also seeks to sweep them into the Kingdom. Families are the _____ of the Kingdom.

Some key biblical promises for me to take hold of are...

The Promise for My _____.

- Exodus 12:3; Acts 16:31

"You and your household" suggests that God works in _____ units.

The Promise of _____.

- Jeremiah 31:17

I must trust the _____ work of God. God has a _____ for every seed I plant. I can count on three things: (1) God will cause a _____ to come from my seeds. (2) God is never _____ or _____—He always has _____ timing with my best interests at heart. (3) My harvest will have the same _____ as my seeds.

In the meantime of my growing seeds, I must: (1) Refuse to become _____. (2) Receive God's gift of _____. (3) Determine to keep my _____ alive and active. (4) _____ and keep on giving; _____ and keep on loving; _____ and keep on praying. Know that a harvest will come.

The Promised Potential in _____ Living.

(1 Peter 3:1, 2, 7)

There is a lesson for me here in kind, gentle, considerate, godly _____ and a quiet honourable _____. My life is a _____ which can affirm or deny the _____ of the Gospel.

Digging Deeper: My Personal Reflections...

Engage the text: Ask questions to see what answers the Scriptures provide: who, what, when, where, and how?

Know the text: What's the meaning for the original audience and then what is the meaning for me?

Listen, let the text speak: What is the Holy Spirit saying to me?

Live in light of the text: Being: what does this say about my identity? Doing: what are some actions for me to obey this week in order to maximize the impact of this message?

Share: If you were to share with a friend, in a sentence or two, a key insight from today's message, what would that be?
