DELIVERING FOR AMERICA & VIRGINIA

Virginia households and businesses benefit from reinvesting in America's infrastructure systems

Investing in the nation's infrastructure benefits America.

Increasing investment in the nation's public infrastructure systems to return them to a state of good repair, expand capacity to meet future demand, and support innovative solutions to future challenges is good for the country and for Virginia. Renewing infrastructure investment will put thousands of dollars into the pockets of American households, drive productivity and boost growth, and support expanded private investment.
