Overview

With more than 95 percent of the world’s population and 80 percent of the world’s purchasing power outside the United States, future economic growth and jobs for Florida and America increasingly depend on expanding U.S. trade and investment opportunities in the global marketplace.

The following pages feature key facts and figures drawn from new Business Roundtable research, U.S. government data, and other data sources that demonstrate the benefits of international trade and investment to economic growth and jobs in Florida.

Trade Creates & Supports Jobs in Florida

- International trade, including exports and imports, supports 2,395,700 Florida jobs – more than one in five. These trade-related jobs grew three times faster than total employment from 1992 to 2017 and are at large and small companies, on farms, in factories, and at the headquarters of Florida's globally engaged firms. (See Florida Jobs Depend On Two-Way Trade)

- Florida exported $52.9 billion in goods and $43.3 billion in services in 2017, including greenhouse & nursery products, pesticides & fertilizers, ships & boats and travel services. Of Florida's 58,104 exporters, 95 percent are small- and medium-sized companies with less than 500 workers. (See Florida Businesses Grow With Exports)

- Customers in 222 countries and territories buy Florida-made goods and services, including billions of dollars in annual exports to top markets like Canada, Brazil and Mexico. Florida's exports have grown more than 40 percent faster than state GDP since 2007. (See Florida Companies Export Throughout The World)

- Imports lower prices and increase choices for Florida companies and families. Lower raw material and input costs help Florida companies stay competitive in global markets, while families can stretch paychecks further as trade agreements reduce the cost of products by eliminating costly barriers to trade. (See Florida Companies Use Imports to Make Competitive Products)

- Free trade agreements (FTAs) have helped fuel rapid export growth from Florida to partner countries. In 2017, $20.3 billion of Florida's goods exports, or 38 percent, went to FTA partners. This represents an increase of 19 percent since 2007. (See Florida Needs Trade Agreements To Grow)

- Foreign-owned companies invest and build facilities and employ 348,800 workers in Florida. (See Foreign Investment In Florida Creates Jobs)

Overview

Creating and preserving quality U.S. jobs is a goal shared by all Americans. With more than 95 percent of the world’s population and 80 percent of the world’s purchasing power outside of the United States, future American economic growth and job creation depend on open markets abroad.

Trade Supports Jobs in Florida

- Export growth increases jobs by generating new business for Florida’s manufacturers, service providers and farmers. Imports support jobs and keep costs low, helping Florida businesses compete and saving Florida families real dollars at the cash register.
- More than one in five Florida jobs depends upon international trade.
- Florida’s trade-related employment grew three times faster than total employment from 1992 to 2017.
- Jobs in export-dependent industries pay about 16 percent more than jobs in less export-intensive industries.
- U.S. exporting plants increase employment 2 to 4 percent faster annually than plants that do not export. Exporting plants also are less likely to go out of business.
- Trade-supported jobs are not just at companies that export and import. Trade supports higher wages for workers and lower costs for companies and consumers, providing them with more money to spend on other things. This spending supports additional jobs throughout the U.S. economy in sectors like entertainment, education and construction.

Overview

Florida exported an estimated $52.9 billion in goods and $43.3 billion in services in 2017. Between 2007 and 2017, Florida goods exports have increased by 22 percent and services exports by 58 percent. Large companies now account for 41 percent of the value of Florida’s goods exports, with the rest provided by small- and medium-sized enterprises (SMEs).

Small & Large Employers Partner to Export

In addition to exporting directly themselves, thousands of American SMEs export indirectly when they sell goods and services to large U.S. exporters. Based on their direct and indirect export activity combined, SMEs represent more than 40 percent of the value of U.S. exports.

Top Florida Exports

- Florida ranks among the top 5 state exporters in 38 industries, including first in greenhouse & nursery products ($107 million), first in pesticides & fertilizers ($1.8 billion), first in ships & boats ($686 million), and second in cement & concrete products ($42 million).
- Florida is America’s 23rd largest exporter of agricultural products. It is the largest exporter of greenhouse & nursery products, the third largest exporter of vegetables & melons, the fourth largest exporter of aquaculture, and the fifth largest exporter of miscellaneous animal products.
- One of Florida’s fastest growing export categories is soaps, cleaning agents & toiletries, which increased by 112 percent since 2007. In 2017, exports of these products reached $1.4 billion.

Overview
In 2017, 58 percent ($1.3 trillion) of the products imported into the United States were inputs and components used by American producers. Lower cost inputs keep U.S. manufacturing competitive in international markets. Imports frequently contain components (like cotton or semiconductors) and services inputs (like design) provided by U.S. companies and farmers, including companies and farmers in Florida.

- Services, especially transportation from Florida's ports, finance and insurance, marketing and legal services are needed to bring imported goods to American manufacturers and households.
- In 2016, about 75 percent of identified U.S. importers were very small businesses with less than 20 employees.
- Trade and investment liberalization policies save the average Florida family of four more than $10,000 per year.
- Imports help keep prices down for Florida families while increasing their choices for goods and services. Prices for imported consumer goods tend to drop year after year.

In 2016, about 211,000 U.S. companies (including 27,294 in Florida) imported products...

And roughly three-quarters of U.S. importers were very small businesses with less than 20 employees.

Overview

Trade with our free trade agreement (FTA) partner countries supports millions of American jobs. Trade agreements level the playing field by lowering other nations’ trade barriers, opening up foreign markets to U.S. exports and setting strong, enforceable rules for trade between the United States and those other countries.

• In 2017, $20.3 billion of Florida’s goods exports, or 38 percent, went to FTA partners.

• Since 2007, Florida’s goods exports to countries with FTAs in effect with the United States in 2017 have increased by 19 percent.

• Florida’s goods exports to Canada and Mexico have increased by $4.3 billion (195 percent) since NAFTA went into effect in 1994.

• Florida’s goods exports to Chile have increased by 189 percent since the FTA took effect in 2004.

• Florida’s exports to Peru of aerospace products & parts have increased from $24 million to $156 million since the FTA went into effect in 2009.

• Canada bought 79 percent of Florida’s exports of vegetables & melons in 2017.

• In 2017, $11.3 billion of Florida’s services exports, or 26 percent, went to FTA partners.

• Florida’s exports to Korea of travel services have increased from $355 million to $691 million, or by 95 percent, since the FTA went into effect in 2012.
