More than 48,000 Delaware Jobs Depend on Trade with TPP Countries

- International trade, both exports and imports of goods and services, supported an estimated 127,000 Delaware jobs – nearly 1 in 4 – in 2014.
- Of those jobs, more than 48,000 depend on trade with the 11 other countries that are party to the Trans-Pacific Partnership (TPP) agreement.
- 19 percent of Delaware goods exports to the world went to TPP countries in 2014.
- Delaware exported $760 million worth of goods (15 percent of the state's total goods exports) and $555 million worth of services (16 percent) to the six TPP countries that are existing U.S. free trade agreement (FTA) partners in 2014.
- Delaware exported $222 million in goods and $206 million in services to the remaining five (new FTA partner) TPP countries in 2014.

Expanding U.S. trade opportunities by approving TPP in 2016 is a Business Roundtable priority. To learn more about the benefits of trade generally and trade with TPP countries, click here.
