BIOGRAPHY

Nathan Howland joined the Orange office of Lee & Associates Commercial Real Estate Services full-time in September 2026, specializing in industrial real estate throughout the Mid-Counties market, which encompasses Southeast Los Angeles County and North Orange County. He focuses on assisting clients with the leasing, acquisition, and disposition of industrial properties, working to identify real estate opportunities that align with their business objectives.

Prior to joining Lee & Associates full-time, Nathan gained valuable industry experience through a summer internship in the Orange office, where he developed a foundation in industrial brokerage, market research, property analysis, and client relations.

A graduate of Chapman University with a Bachelor of Arts in Strategic and Corporate Communication, Nathan brings a strong background in communication, relationship building, and business development to his role. Working alongside the experienced professionals of the Howland Destino Industrial Team, he is committed to providing clients with valuable market insight, responsive service, and the resources necessary to make informed real estate decisions.

Nathan's goal is to establish lasting relationships with his clients by understanding their individual needs and helping them achieve both their immediate and long-term real estate objectives.
