A student’s journey on Learning Pathways

December 2021

‘Since God had planned something better for us so that only together with us would they be made perfect’ (Hebrews 11:40).

I am thankful to the Learning Pathways team at International Headquarters for creating such a beautiful, evaluative concept to challenge my spirituality and my involvement with my community.

Learning Pathways, though simple in its approach, is truly effective in its harvest of soul-saving productivity. It has developed in me the desire to be available for others and to be part of the community that I live in. It has taught me that a dedicated team can bring positive change in the community by the love of Christ. I have engaged with young people to understand their concerns and I have also become a more joyful participant in family life.

Learning Pathways has also assisted me in planning and setting goals for my work.

It is a privilege to be part of this ongoing journey.
