An International Congress is a series of meetings to mark a special event or for a specific purpose within The Salvation Army. It is a time for Salvationists from all around the world to come together, sharing in prayer and worship. There have been seven such events in the Army’s history, the earliest in 1886 and the most recent in 2000.

On 2 July 1865, William Booth addressed a crowd in the East End of London and began the movement that would become known as The Salvation Army. 2015 marks 150 years since this event and we want to bring the Army world together to commemorate the history of the Army, celebrate the work it does today and innovate towards a bright future.

The Congress runs from 1-5 July 2015 at The O2 in London.

The Congress will be a fantastic international event bringing together approximately 15,000 people from the 126 countries where the Army is active. There will be seven main meetings and a host of concerts, seminars, a musical, kid’s programmes and exhibitions throughout the five day event. A fantastic celebration of 150 years.

The Congress is aimed at members of The Salvation Army all around the world and although it is aimed at Salvationists, anyone is welcome to attend. Whether you’re an officer, soldier, adherent or just a friend of the Army, we’d love to see you there! If you’d like to attend the Congress, please go to our website and book your tickets.
