

What do diverse audiences think about Dr. Cady?

"A mesmerizing lecture of extremely practical clinical significance."

Matthew Powell , MD – Shoreline Family Medicine – Norton Shores , MI

"The best lecture I have ever attended. You got my 100% attention. Thank you!"

Marcos Sunga, MD Rosiclare, IL

"Most of my life I've looked for the quick fix and it has usually been there. Now, as American business seeks to compete on quality and productivity we need more than a quick cure for what ails us. Louis Cady's approach is unique: he looks for the root cause of the problem, then writes a cogent prescription for the permanent solution. Our senior managers began to address the real issues related to long run improvements after he visited us."

Paul Horgen, CEO - IBM Mid-America Credit Union, Rochester, MN

"Dr. Cady is a master in the art of educating and entertaining simultaneously."

Tina Evans-Robinson, MD - Southwestern Community Mental Health Center, Evansville, Indiana

"I learned a lot about the different medications. I stayed interested the entire 2 hours. Dr. Cady was great with his comparisons. The slides were clear and he helped me to understand more about how the brain accepted different meds and where in the brain [they worked]."

Michele Osborn, LPN – University Pediatrics, Mallard Creek, Charlotte, NC

"Disbelieve if you dare."

Tonya McInnis – University Pediatrics

"Just right, clear, concise, focused, pertinent."

J.W. Thrasher, MD, JD – Thrasher & Associates – Myrtle Beach , S.C.

"Excellent! MD's who had opportunity to hear you speak missed a great learning session. I talk to many moms "911" (so I call them) calls. Many fearing their child has a form of ADD...want them to function better, smoother in life for parent & child. This talk will help me to help lower their fear about the possibility of being put on medication."

Mary Taylor, RN – University Pediatrics, Charlotte, NC

"I was forced to pay attention! Dr. Cady's energy and the 'basic science' refresher incorporated quickly and easily into the discussion."
