Old partners reunite

Not long ago, Bob Hamman ran into Lou Celli at an airport. The brief, chance encounter was actually a reunion of sorts – Hamman and Celli knew each other and played occasionally as bridge partners when they were at UCLA in the Fifties. Hamman, of course, was majoring in bridge.

Through a third party in Memphis, the two managed to reconnect – Celli lives in the Memphis suburb of Germantown – and Celli traveled to Louisville to watch Hamman play.

Little did Celli know how that would come to pass.

“I came to Louisville only to see Bob play and did it first hand across the table,” Celli wrote in a note that he left in the Daily Bulletin office when he had to depart unexpectedly early on business.

The two played in a side game Sunday evening, coming in second with a 61% game.

“Bob was kind to play with me, and although the play and defense are like riding a bicycle, the bidding is not,” Celli continued. “So much has changed in the bidding over the years that at times I was lost in the sequences.”

Hamman agreed that Celli still knows his way around a bridge table. “He definitely has a feel for the game.”

Back in Tennessee, Celli is CEO of the Joseph’s Coat Ministry (www.jcoat.org), which has been working in Zambia since 2002, distributing

Your chance to play in a world championship

In most cases, if you want to play in a world championship, you have to qualify in some way, usually in a team trials event such as the ones run by the United States Bridge Federation.

This fall, you will have a chance to compete for a world title without having to pre-qualify.

It’s the World Transnational Open Teams, which will run concurrently with the World Bridge Teams Championships in Veldhoven, Netherlands, Oct. 15-29. The TNOT begins Monday, Oct. 24, and concludes on Saturday, Oct. 29.

World Bridge Federation President Gianarrigo Rona, who was in Louisville for WBF meetings during the Spring NABC, took time out from his schedule to issue an invitation to the world championship to ACBL players.

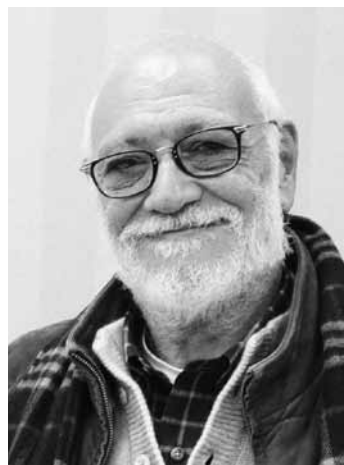

The tournament will feature the Bermuda Bowl, Venice Cup, Senior Bowl – all requiring pre-qualification – and the TNOT.

The TNOT is open to any player in good standing with his or her national bridge organization, e.g., the ACBL or the Canadian Bridge Federation. Pairs and teams made be made up of players from different countries, and there are no restrictions on the number of players from any country.

Play will be in a modern convention center in Eindhoven, a town near Veldhoven. At present, the Dutch Bridge Federation is doing test runs for a system that features web cams at every table to facilitate Internet viewing.

Meltzer upset in Vanderbilt opener

It didn’t take long for the Vanderbilt Knockout Teams to record an upset. On the first full day of play, the No. 11 seed, captained by Rose Meltzer, was knocked off by No. 54, led by Hansa Narasimhan.

The new No. 11 seed is Narasimhan, of Los Altos Hills CA, playing with fellow Californian William Watson and a trio from India: Sandip Datta, Amar Banerjee and Kaystabh Nandi. Meltzer’s squad was Kyle Larsen, Russ Ekeblad, Diego Brenner (Spain) and Matthew and Pamela Granovetter.

Many of the matches were runaways, and the top four seeds – Monaco (Pierre Zimmermann), Nick Nickell, John Diamond and James Cayne – advanced with little trouble. Nickell had the easiest time when their opponents withdrew after three quarters, trailing 202-59.

There was, however, some drama when the Ron Klinger – Seymon Deutsch match ended in a 135-135 tie, forcing an eight-board playoff. Deutsch prevailed 30-17 to move into the round of 32.

Frukacz and Kamenova take big lead in Mixed

Waldemar Frukacz of Gloucester ON and Ljudmila Kamenova of Stony Brook NY had two strong sessions to take the lead in the Rockwell Mixed Pairs after two qualifying sessions. The pair scored 65.69% in the afternoon and followed with 61.09% in the evening. Their carryover going into the final two sessions today is 266.68.

The second-leading qualifiers, Daniel Lavee of Thornhill ON and Kismet Fung, of Edmonton AB, have a carryover of 204.51. In third place are Roger Woodin of Voorheesville NY and Pam LaShelle of Round Rock TX. Their carryover is 192.96.

The defending champions are Scott Levine and Judi Radin. They are in 69th place.

Play began yesterday with 314 pairs, and 156 pairs made the cut to today’s final two sessions.

International Fund

In NABC+ events, $1.50 (per person, per session) of each entry free will be allocated to the ACBL International Fund. These funds are used to underwrite part of the expenses of ACBL members who participate in international competition.

Goodwill Message

Be sure to say “thank you” to a caddy during this NABC. The caddies work very hard during Swiss teams and knockouts, among other duties.

A word of thanks will brighten their day — and yours, too.

Rose Meltzer, Chairman
National Goodwill Committee

Louisville volunteer Jan Hey, right, played with 8-year-old Canadian Olivia Laufer in a morning game earlier this week against Scott and Phyllis Denison of Santa Barbara CA. It’s clear everyone at the table understands the primary goal of bridge – having a good time.

Theory and practice

By Barry Rigal

“Those who can, do. Those who can't, teach,” said George Bernard Shaw. Bridge writers have often self-deprecatingly substituted “write” for “teach” into this maxim.

But Dave Smith and Brent Manley set about disproving the theory in the Baldwin North American Pairs, Flight A. They reached the final and finished fifth, setting themselves up for a satisfying week of Daily Bulletin editing.

This deal from the first qualifying set gave them a fine score.

North accurately led a diamond to the 5, jack and ace. Smith won, cashed the ♣K and ran the clubs. This was the ending:

The last club squeezed South into letting go of his heart guard or baring the ♠A. At the table, he pitched his spade, so Smith pitched a heart, as did North. Now the ♠K from dummy forced South to win and lead a heart to let declarer finesse or play a diamond. When he chose the latter, Smith pitched his ♥Q and North had to give declarer or dummy the rest for 20.3 out of 25 matchpoints.

5-1 is fine

Brian Glubok played well to land his doubled contract on this deal from a regional pairs event on Sunday.

North led the ♥5 to dummy's ace, South following with an encouraging 3 (North-South were playing upside-down count and attitude). Glubok realized that South likely had a singleton club and was going to get a ruff as soon as she won the second round of hearts.

Likewise, if he drew trumps immediately, North and South might guess to attack the diamond suit when they got in. So Glubok played a club to his king, setting up a ruff for South. North won the ace and, not playing his partner for two trumps and a singleton club, continued hearts.

When South got in, she should have returned a diamond, but instead elected to tap declarer. After this defense, Glubok was cold. He ruffed and played three rounds of trumps. North won and was endplayed.

He could not return a club or Glubok would win and play clubs until North ruffed, at which point he would be endplayed again, forced to return a trump or play a diamond away from the king.

Seeing this, North played the ♦K, but Glubok simply won and played a club to his hand, drew a round of trumps and played clubs, conceding one more spade trick. Plus 630 was worth 37 out of 38 matchpoints.

JUST FOR NEW PLAYERS

Getting a leg up

By Marti Ronemus

Well, I hope you're having a terrific day... enjoying the games, the lectures, the food, the music, all that great ACBL hospitality. Have you played in any of the Swiss Team games yet? What about a midnight game? There are lots of nice partners at the partnership desk, too. After all, this is the NABC!

I'm glad you're having fun because I'm not.

Two weeks ago, I broke my leg slipping on the ice. For a confessed Drama Queen like me, this is probably the ideal injury...lots to complain about, immobilized so I can't be expected to do anything useful, pain but not so much that drugs won't dull it (I have become a huge fan of the pharmaceutical industry!)...and what an opportunity to be showered with sympathy, gifts, wonderful homemade meals (something rarely seen here!), e-mails, phone calls, cards. Wow. I just couldn't ask for more. (Except maybe to be there with you in Louisville, where I had planned to be.)

My husband, Gary, is an absolute saint. The very fact he hasn't smothered me yet ("No! No! Move the pillow two inches, not three!") gives proof to that. He did say, however, I'm very lucky this didn't happen during the golf season, or I'd be on my own.

So I was sitting there, staring at the TV (in the interest of full disclosure, it wasn't even turned on), thinking about broken legs. Why is it, I asked myself, horses don't survive broken legs and humans do? Hmm. I had no answer and nothing better to think about, so I went to my go-to horse guy, Russell (who plays at our club and also might be the smartest person I know). He told me the following:

"Leg-bone fractures just can't be fixed under current veterinary orthopedic capabilities. You've got 900-1200 pounds balanced on four miraculously engineered broomsticks.

"Barbaro is very illustrative. He was an almost uniquely cooperative patient. The repairs to his fracture(s) were going well. Then he developed laminitis, which is an inflammatory deterioration of the hoof structure. Why did he develop laminitis? Because he wasn't walking on his feet. Horses' feet are shock absorbers and pumps. Horses must be up on their legs and moving as much as possible, or else they cease to be horses. Most of them even sleep standing up.

This makes a lot of sense against the background of what the horse evolved to be, which among other things is a creature that survives by ambulatory eating (grazing animals keep moving with the available forage) and by fleeing from predators.

Consequently, when something goes badly wrong with a horse's suspension system, it's impossible to fix with present capabilities, because of the nature of the horse and the fact that a fracture leads to a cascade of other problems."

Well, I don't know about you, but that's a lot to think about. And what about our bridge tie-in? There are two major lessons from this.

Be glad you're not a horse. Protect your legs.

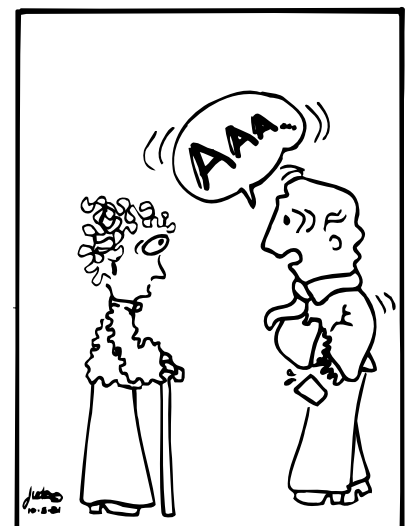

Number one is already a done deal...you'll have to wait for your next life and be very good in this one to deserve to be reincarnated as a racehorse...so let's concentrate on number two.

Have you figured out yet what your bridge player legs are? Transportation!! Without legs, you can't get back and forth across the table! Your legs come in two major forms...high cards and (wait for it!) trumps. Taking care of those trump legs sometimes makes it imperative not to draw them right away.

And not breaking your bridge legs is usually a result of planning how you're going to run your race in advance. Here's an example of how careful planning enables you to cross the line first. You are in a 4♥ contract, and West overcalled a spade, promising five or more. This is slightly ambitious, but you can do it! After all, you're the favorite!

 - ♦ 7 4
 - ♣ A 4 3
- ♠ 9 6 4 3
 - ♥ 7 5
 - ♦ K Q 10 6
 - ♣ Q 9 2

The ♠K lead is no surprise. Your initial analysis shows one spade loser, no hearts, two diamonds and one club. Oops. There are only two main ways to get rid of losers: ruff them (usually in dummy) or dump them (usually on a winner, sometimes on another loser). You take a long look at dummy and spot something...you remember me whispering in your ear: "No five-card suit in dummy should ever be ignored."

The diamonds are pathetic, but there are indeed five of them. If you are very careful with your legs and guard your entries like the winning Irish Sweepstakes ticket, you have a good chance of making this. At trick two, lead a diamond.

West will win, cash the ♠Q and continue with a trump. You can win in hand and play another diamond. Take the lead in dummy, ruff a diamond, return to dummy with a trump and ruff a fourth round of diamonds. Voila! Your ♦9 is now good and you can get to it with the ♣K to pitch a club from your hand. Well done! Aren't you terrific? See how careful planning and playing the odds (diamond split 4-2, trumps split either 3-1 or 2-2, you were ready for either), you not only used your legs like a winner, but nosed out the other horses...er, players.

So as you go about your wonderful days in Louisville, please think of poor, pathetic, lonely me, missing out on all the fun. Send me e-mails about how you're bringing home those purses, or how you are limping in last. I want to hear it all. mronemus@comcast.net

Opening lead: ♦K.

Bidding commentary: This is one of the rare times that you do not redouble with 11+ HCP. When you have four-card (or longer) major-suit support plus opening-bid values, jump to 3NT to tell your story in one bid. North, with a minimum, corrects to 4♠. If you had slam intentions, you would cuebid or use Blackwood if partner signs off.

Lead commentary: Routine with this strong honor-sequence holding.

Play commentary: As North, you are in danger of losing four tricks: three clubs and a diamond. You should assume the club honors are divided as East would probably have led a high club holding the ace-king. However, you have an answer – a sure-fire answer. Win the ♦A, draw trumps, play the ♥A, a heart to the king and ruff a heart, stripping that suit, and exit a diamond, your equal-length side suit. East is on play with the ♦Q, and if East leads a club or gives you a ruff and sluff, you lose but two club tricks. If you have to play clubs yourself, you will lose three club tricks.

Tip: Here, if an opponent gives you a ruff and sluff rather than lead a club, ruff in the hand that is longer in clubs and discard from the hand that is shorter in clubs. Translation: Ruff in the South hand and discard a club from the North hand.

food and helping build schools among other activities.

Celli was delighted to hear from Hamman after so long. "It was great to get caught up over the 52 years we have not seen each other or played bridge together," Celli wrote. "Bob has certainly run the race to reach his destiny, and his play was outstanding. It was truly a wonderful experience for me and fun, fun, fun."

Celli added: "The most memorable hands for me were the two in a row in which I went into the tank on the bidding sequences. Although Bob gave me every opportunity to make the right bid, I lost focus. It is a great experience applicable to life. We have to stay focused on what we are called to do in order to run the race to reach our destinies."

Although Celli does not expect to play competitively again – he feels obliged to concentrate on his foundation – he did acknowledge that playing with Hamman stirred up some of the old passion for bridge.

Hamman notes that Celli could make a comeback if he wanted to: "It's just a question of dusting off the cobwebs."

At the World Bridge Series in Philadelphia last fall, Rona said he expects the system to be like having 50 simultaneous vugraph presentations at home.

Players considering the TNOT should make plans early rather than later, Rona says. The host hotel has 500 rooms, but the transnational event is expected to draw heavily from the host country and from the bordering nations of Germany and Belgium.

Access from Amsterdam is easy by train, Rona says, but those who plan to travel to Veldhoven by car would probably prefer the closer airport in Brussels, Belgium.

The first TNOT was played in 1997 and has been contested in odd-numbered years ever since. The number of entries has grown in recent years.

Rona says he expects a first-class championship in the Netherlands. "The Dutch have organized a championship to give the best service possible to the players," Rona says. "They are very professional and capable."

For more information, visit the World Bridge Federation web site, www.worldbridge.org, or e-mail secretariat@worldbridgefed.com. Information is also available via e-mail at nbb@bridge.nl.

Rona also took the opportunity to encourage ACBL members to consider the 2nd Youth Bridge World Congress in Opatija, Croatia, scheduled for Aug. 21-30. Information on that tournament is available at the WBF web site and through the WBF secretariat.

Eligible players are those 25 and younger (Juniors) and those 20 and younger (Youngsters). The schedule includes Swiss teams and board-a-match teams and a three-day open pairs.

The master suit, masterfully masked

By Gary Hann

Champion-caliber players routinely think more deeply than we mere mortals. On Board 19 of the Silver Ribbon Final Session, Keith Garber and Mel Colchamiro showed that exotic but careful bidding can reap the hoped-for rewards. While most of the field was bemoaning their fate in various spade contracts, these two didn't once mention the spade suit in bringing home a near top.

2♦ (2)	2♥ (3)
3♥ (4)	4♣ (5)
4NT	5♦ (6)
5♠ (7)	6♥ (8)
7♦	Pass (9)

- (1) Eschewing the spade "suit" for the meaty heart suit.
- (2) Game forcing.
- (3) Unwilling to introduce spades unless North could show four pieces later.
- (4) Apparently setting hearts as trump.
- (5) Cuebid.
- (6) Three key cards.
- (7) Asking for the ♥Q.
- (8) No ♥Q.
- (9) Demonstrating utmost confidence in his partner.

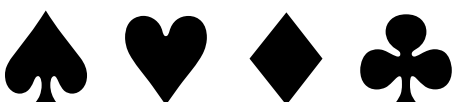

Garber refused to open spades, not wanting to suggest a high-level spade contract opposite three or fewer spades in Colchamiro's hand. After the game-forcing 2♦ bid, Garber remained consistent, showing five good or six plus hearts, but no interest in spades unless his partner could mention a four-card spade suit himself.

Now Colchamiro made a master bid by raising hearts in preparation for a keycard auction. When Garber cuebid the ♣A, Colchamiro's thoughtful plan was rewarded as he discovered the ♥AK and confirmed the ♣A. Finding that Garber didn't have the ♥Q, Colchamiro knew that it would probably take a ruff to set up the hearts and chanced the diamond grand, naming the suit for only the second time.

Having told his story, Garber passed 7♦, giving Colchamiro full faith and credit. Although a club lead would have taken dummy's precious entry, East led a heart. He hoped that his partner might be void, given the heart bids and support! Declarer considered a possible tricky underlead of the ♥Q, but he eventually played the ♥A, came to the ♠A, drew trumps. He led to the ♥K, intending to follow with a ruffing finesse. He was rewarded with 13 tricks when the queen dropped. Even without the drop, he would have made seven diamond winners, the ♠A and ♣A, and four heart winners (with the ruffing finesse) for 13 tricks.

Notice to players

Each player must have an ACBL convention card filled out and on the table. Please note that other types of convention cards, such as the WBF convention card or homemade cards that do not sufficiently resemble the ACBL convention card, are not acceptable substitutes.

It's magic

By Richard Chan

On this deal from the first final session of the Leventritt Silver Ribbon Pairs, all elements of bridge came into play – i.e., bidding, defense and declarer play, plus the magic of the vanishing trick. I was North.

Dlr: North	♠ K 10 8 3
Vul: E-W	♥ K 9 6 4
	♦ J 7 5
	♣ K Q
♠ 7 4		♠ Q J 9 5
♥ A Q 10 2		♥ 7 5 3
♦ K Q 10 6		♦ 8 2
♣ A 7 6		♣ J 8 3 2
	♠ A 6 2
	♥ J 8
	♦ A 9 4 3
	♣ 10 9 5 4

West	North	East	South
	1♦	Pass	1NT
2♥	Pass	Pass	3♦
All Pass

Perhaps instead of bidding 3♦, South could have doubled, which would have given North the magic plus 200 for all the matchpoints.

Second, the defense. Deep Finesse says that North-South can make only seven tricks in diamonds, but East, not unreasonably, led the ♥3, partner's suit.

Now for the play. I put up the jack from dummy, and West won the ace, continuing with the ♥Q. I won the king and ruffed the ♥4, finding out that West started with only four hearts.

Next I played a club to the king, which held, and followed with the ♣Q. West won and exited with the ♠7: 8, 9, ace. I ruffed a low club in hand, ruffed my last heart in dummy, played a spade to my king and exited with a spade.

Poor West had to ruff his partner's spade winner, after which he exited with the ♦Q. I won in dummy with the ace and played dummy's last club. West could not prevent me from scoring my ♦J. The coup en passant reduced my losers to four. Plus 110 was worth 62.5 out of 75 matchpoints.

The Insider

At the half-way point of each NABC, the masochistic Insider starts to think ahead to the next NABC. In this case, that means he spent the day thinking about Toronto. It isn't too soon for all of you to do the same. U.S. citizens traveling by air or steamship need a passport. Out-of-country cell phone usage can get pretty expensive pretty fast — check with your carrier to see what kind of temporary plan you can pick up to ease the pain. Make your reservations early — save $10 per night at the Royal York by reserving soon. Watch online or in the Bridge Bulletin for more tips as we get closer.

Boss Baum came by to chastise the Insider for his wedge comment yesterday. The Insider apologizes for being insensitive and disrespectful of the Boss — of course he isn't looking for a new wedge; he is hard at work and besides, it is his long game that needs work! The S.C. called down from the 42nd floor executive suite and demanded that Insider not reveal any more confidential information concerning the CEO search. So, don't expect any other reports from him on this subject. (Right — keep reading, there will be more juicy details before this NABC is over.) The main question that the Insider knows is on all your minds — does the S.C. report to Boss Baum or is it the other way around will also answered once and for all Friday. The Insider has an appointment with his lawyer on Thursday and has some time blocked Friday afternoon just in case.

The Ohio River was supposed to crest Sunday. Then it rained some more. Now, it is expected to crest Thursday. Maybe the Insider will be able to get his car off the lower level by the time he leaves on Sunday. The S.C. has no such problems as the official, life size (52') replica of the SS Finland that he had commissioned as part of the ACBL Museum project is due to dock on level three of the Galt House parking garage on Saturday. There will be a short period set aside for tours followed by the S.C.'s departure later that day. The Ask Me Girl can book your tour time, just Ask.

Galt House Parking

In order to receive the Galt House parking discount, you must do the following:

Self Parking - $7

Players who drive in each day: Show your convention card at the concierge desk in the lobby of the Galt House to receive a parking validation ticket. You will need to pick up a ticket each day of the tournament. If you leave during the day and come back, you will need to pick up a new ticket. Your parking validation ticket is good for 17 hours (for example, 8 a.m. to 1 a.m.).

Galt House guests: Your room key will be used to go in and out of the parking garage. Please be sure to tell the front desk agent that you are with ACBL.

Monitoring

At this and future North American Championships, ACBL will be monitoring NABC+ events with visible, real-time cameras. The images will be recorded and will be available for later official inspection and review.

By general monitoring of the session and participants' behavior, ACBL has another source of information that may be useful in determining facts and settling issues arising from some types of ethical and behavioral complaints or actions. Please summon a director if a problem occurs at the table.

This procedure is intended to assure everyone that the playing field is level and that misbehavior will not be tolerated.

TOURNAMENT APPEALS

In order to keep the bridge public informed of appeal results in a timely fashion, the NABC Daily Bulletin staff publishes write-ups. Every effort is made to ensure that these reports are accurate and complete. Before they are published in the NABC Appeals Casebook, however, revisions may be made.

(1) 5♣ call made after one to two seconds rather than 10 seconds as required by regulation.

(2) Alleged to be slow by East-West, disputed by North-South

Facts: The contract was 7NT by South, making seven for North-South plus 2220. The 5♣ call was made after one to two seconds rather than the approximately 10 seconds required by regulation. The double of 7♥ was alleged (by East-West) to be slow, but was disputed by North-South.

Director's ruling: North's failure to follow the regulation regarding a skip bid demonstrably suggested to South that bidding 7NT would be successful, so he is judged to have passed 7♥ doubled. The director found that down seven is the worst result for North-South that was likely in 7♥ doubled. Therefore, the director adjusted the score to North-South plus 1700 based on Laws 12C1e and 16B2.

THE APPEAL:

Appealing side: West put the STOP card down before making the 4♥ bid. North had a few seconds to think before the call actually "hit the table." North also commented that East had asked (out of turn) about the 2♠ call before West bid 4♥.

Non-appealing side: West said that he is hard of hearing. He did not hear any questions being asked by his partner.

The decision: The committee's decision hinged on whether a 5—7 second pause on a seven-level decision could constitute a break-in-tempo (BIT). The majority of the committee was of the opinion that on a highly competitive auction, a 7-second pause was not necessarily a BIT. But, that was not the point here. The double of 7♥ had been made by a player who had taken one second to bid after a STOP card warning and, therefore, that player had established a fast tempo in a competitive auction. This is true in this case for this player, if not for every player. Seven seconds was a BIT. The committee considered the infraction of failing to observe the STOP card warning to be as serious as the pause (if any) over 7♥ doubled.

The next question to consider was whether passing 7♥ doubled was a logical alternative. It was determined that passing 7♥ doubled had to be logical alternative for anyone who had passed the first time, regardless of whether bidding 7NT looked clearly right to the committee. The BIT had made the call more attractive to a player for whom the call had not been automatic the first time.

Since the BIT had made the winning action more attractive and a less successful action was a logical alternative, the committee upheld the adjusted score. A North-South score of plus 1700 was agreed to be the likely result in 7♥ doubled.

Committee: Ron Gerard, chair, Ed Lazarus, Barry Rigal, Bruce Rogoff and Bob White.

(1) Could be short.

(2) Break in tempo (BIT) agreed by East-West to be 30—45 seconds.

Facts: The final contract was 3♥ by East making four after the lead of the ♦A. All players agreed that there was a considered pause before the second double. The director was called at the end of the hand. The director asked if both doubles were ostensibly penalty. West indicated that both doubles were intended as penalty. East-West reported that they play Precision with a 14—16 1NT opening Director's ruling: A quick poll of two players was conducted and both players believed that pass was a logical alternative to 3♥ on the above auction. The slow double was believed to demonstrably suggest pulling the double. Based on the results of the poll, the result was adjusted to 3♦ doubled. It was judged that in the play of 3♦ doubled, it would be reasonably likely for it to make three. The director adjusted the result to 3♦ doubled, making three, for an adjusted score for North-South of plus 470 based on Laws 16B2 and 12C1e.

The appeal: East-West appealed the director's ruling and both East-West players attended the hearing. East argued that it was very unsafe to play 3♦ doubled at IMPs. West thought his double was a "Do Something Intelligent Double."

The decision: The BIT was stipulated by both sides. The committee believed that the slow double suggested bidding over passing. Passing is a logical alternative to bidding; some would argue that it is the only alternative. Therefore, the committee believed that bidding was prohibited by the unauthorized information.

The committee decided that 3♦ doubled will usually take nine tricks. Taking 10 tricks was not deemed at all probable, so the committee ruled as the director had. The committee also decided that the decision was so clear-cut that despite the appellants' inexperience, an Appeal Without Merit Warning (AWMW) was given. The committee did consider the appellants' inexperience in rejecting a procedural penalty for abuse of unauthorized information, preferring direct education to penalty.

Committee members: Jeff Goldsmith, chair, Jeff Aker, Dick Budd, Tom Carmichael and Jeff Roman.

John Hinton and Cyndy Cradick Day

Cyndy Cradick is one of the most-beloved bridge teachers, directors and managers in the Central Indiana Bridge Association (CIBA). This Silver Life Master has devoted her life to bridge over several decades and is the reason many new players enter the bridge world and go on to become avid bridge contenders. Cyndy has worked very hard to create a partnership with members of the local ABA, and through her efforts, many of our ABA friends are frequent players at ACBL games. For nearly two decades, Cyndy served as secretary for Unit 130, retiring in 2010. As caddy master, she has recruited and trained many local youngsters to caddy CIBA events. In her spare time, along with husband John, Cyndy spends many hours with her kids and grandkids. An avid reader, she can also now be frequently found with her new Kindle. She never fails to end a game without saying, "Thanks for coming." We say to her, "Thanks for being there when we came."

John Hinton served the Central Indiana Bridge Association as Unit Treasurer for nearly two decades. His hard work brought many organizational improvements to the Unit's business and bookkeeping efforts. While tackling these duties for CIBA, John found time to hold the same job for District 11. John is a fierce competitor and has attained Gold Life Master status. He recently decided to retire from his duties as treasurer of CIBA and District 11 so that he could concentrate on spending more time with Brenda and their children, some of whom are already serving as caddies for area tournaments. The members of CIBA appreciate John's kindness and patience, and hope with some of his volunteer work behind him, we now will have more opportunity to see him at the bridge table. Thanks for your efforts, John.

Churchill Downs Bracketed Knockouts

Horse racing in Kentucky is rich in history, dating back to 1789 when the first race course was laid out in Lexington. It was almost 100 years later, however, in 1875, that Churchill Downs officially opened and began its tradition as "Home of the Kentucky Derby."

Wednesday's Sponsors

Bluegrass Bridge Association Stratified Daylight Open Pairs

The Bluegrass Bridge Association, Unit 164, is comprised of 383 members from the following Kentucky cities: Lexington, Corbin, London, Maysville, Richmond, Maysville, Russell Springs, Russellville and Somerset. The Unit hosts three sectional tournaments a year; the Cabin Fever Sectional in January, the Bluegrass Sectional in May, and the Pine Mountain Sectional, usually held in September, but scheduled for October this year. In addition, the Unit co-hosts, along with Unit 117, a Regional Tournament next November, at the Horseshoe Casino in Elizabeth IN.

Evangeline Smith Memorial 299er

Evangeline Walker Smith was a U.S. Army wife and a mother of two. She grew up in Johnson City, TN and relished her life traveling around the world. Her triple major in college; — history, English and music — fueled her desire to see every museum or any site of note. Thus, she made her children's lives an adventure. A brilliant cook, she served students attending the Special Warfare School at dinners in her home, enlisting her children to serve and mingle with the guests.

Smith played the harp in symphonies in cities where she lived. She also painted landscapes in oil and worked the crossword puzzle in ink every day. She read the newspaper cover to cover every day and was a voracious reader of poetry and novels. This Renaissance woman's first love, however, was bridge and she found the challenge better than any other. She played bridge throughout the world, as well as in the U.S. She taught her daughter, Vangie Marie, to love the game as well.

Billie Allen Side Game

By Reva Brehm:

In the early Eighties, a new duplicate club was organized in Lexington KY. Several women, new to the city, who were contract bridge players began to play in the afternoon games. A longtime Life Master began mentoring us and taught us to love duplicate. She was Billie Allen Wedding. Billie was so much fun, and she helped us through the "novice nerves" period. She always reminded us how important the vulnerability was in duplicate, so she would tap the board with her pencil. Occasionally we still tap the board in memory of Billie! She was a superb bridge player, a lovely lady and an unforgettable friend.

Aurelius Mooney Memorial Stratified Open Pairs

Aurelius A. Mooney (1908-1972), an educator by training and inclination, joined the faculty of Louisville Male High School in 1938 and taught mathematics, science, radio, electronics, and history there for more than 30 years.

Mooney loved the game of bridge and was an avid and fiercely competitive rubber and duplicate player for most of his adult life. Mooney played in the Spring NABC in 1966, the last time that Louisville hosted the event. His daughter Aurelia is a Bronze Life Master and a member of the Louisville Bridge Association.

Art Huber Stratified Swiss

Arthur Hubert was as an information technology manager for Enro Shirt Company/The Apparel Group for 28 years before retiring in 1999. He took up a second career as a landlord after purchasing several apartment buildings.

Huber's hobbies include most sports, but he especially loved playing baseball in his younger years; in later years, following baseball as a spectator was continuous. Of course, duplicate bridge with his wife as his partner, was another favorite pastime.

Huber was born in Louisville, and, except for a very brief time working in Alabama, lived his entire life in Louisville. He died in January 2010 and is survived by his wife, Diane, sons Brian Huber, Andy Huber and Sean Ashley and daughter Laura Paul.
