- Fresh and familiar social interface
- Direct Messages for easy & efficient communication
- Crisis management, internal collaboration and more
- Automatic message translation for ELL families
- Analytics, insight & compliance

Made for districts

Aeries Communications offers districts two significant benefits. First, it's a reliable mass communication tool. When there's something important to share, rest assured everyone is informed. The second advantage is management capability. All communication is easily tracked and maintained. No fuss, no muss.

Manageable

Track, maintain and manage all communication simply and effectively.

Far Reaching

Deliver important announcements via app, text, email, or phone call. Calls can be sent out with custom audio and translated text-to-speech.

Collaborative

Create dynamic groups, internal message threads and collaborate with translators.

Created with schools

Teachers need a safe and efficient way to connect with parents and communicate with peers. We provide a one-stop platform without the headache of checking and updating multiple channels.

All-in-one

Say 'goodbye' to the fragmented mess of emails, Tweets and Facebook posts.

Proactive

Give your staff a direct line to each other and parents.

Oversight

The school administrator has visibility to all communication within the school.

Loved by parents ...regardless of language

Parents want to know what's going on with their kids, plain and simple. Aeries Communications provides parents an easy and safe way to receive urgent messages, stay up to date on school activities and contact their child's teachers.

Simple

Safely deliver messages when and how parents want them while making every touchpoint as effortless as possible.

Universal

Language barriers shouldn't keep parents from being involved with their child's education. Announcements and Direct Messages are automatically translated to a member's preferred language.

Responsive

Knowing parents are on the go, Aeries Communications was created with a mobile first mindset. The app is easily accessed via desktop or phone.
