MyAgData® does not yet support the Climate FieldView™ FMIS. However, you can export your field map data for import into our acreage reporting system.
1. From the Data menu, select Data Manager.

2. Be sure to select all of the fields you want to export, then click Actions and select Export DAT Files.

3. The FieldView™ system will begin the export. This could take several minutes.

4. When the export process is complete, you're ready to download the files to your computer.

5. FieldView™ creates a compressed file that you can save and distribute as required.
