Organic beet is a superfood containing vitamins and minerals essential to joint health and mobility as well as the body's natural recovery process. Organic beet contains nitrates, which are converted to nitric oxide. Nitric oxide supports blood flow, making it a perfect sports nutrition and muscle building supplement. These nitrates support biological mechanisms throughout the body, including vascular health. Beet contains 20% more nitrates than any other food source.

- Studies have shown that beet powder may help support healthy blood pressure levels
- Beet powder may help support endurance during exercise
- Beet is water-soluble and blended with coconut water powder for highly bioavailable nutrients that support energy levels, hydration and performance

NATURAL IMMUNE/DIGESTION SUPPORT

WHY PURE PLANET HAS THE BEST BEET PRODUCTS ANYWHERE

Both of our products include concentrated organic beet juice powder for enhanced benefits. They also include organic coconut water, which contains vitamins, minerals, amino acids, antioxidants, phytonutrients, potassium, and magnesium while still being low in calories. Pure Planet's source of coconut powder is a freeze-dried, highly soluble powder that is certified organic, kosher, and contains no fillers.

FUNCTIONAL BEET PRODUCTS ARE IN DEMAND

Organic beets are a trending ingredient in healthy snacks, yogurts and now whole food supplements. The most important issue for consumers is taste, which is why Pure Planet's functional Power Beets drinks include delicious berry burst and passion fruit, orange and guava flavors.

PRE WORKOUT | Berry Blast

Meet the ultimate workout partner. This pre-workout drink is made from organic beets, nature's most potent source of nitrates, for improved blood flow to help muscles pump up faster and look bigger longer. Power up energy with yerba mate. Stay strong and last long with rhodiola root. Then recover fast with organic cordyceps. This organic, gluten-free, and totally natural power drink is unlike anything on the market today. Maximize results in the gym, on the court, in the pool, and on the trail.

Organic Yerba Mate is included to support weight management goals. The chlorogenic acid found in yerba mate can support the process by which the body turns fat and carbohydrates into energy.

Organic cordyceps (CordyGen™) is a fungus that may help support endurance and energy levels at any age. Rhodiola root is considered an adaptogen. Plant-based adaptogens can help your body adapt to physical, chemical, and environmental stress, such as a workout. Organic Power Beets supports blood flow and energy without burnout, providing high performance today without compromising tomorrow.

RAPID RECOVERY FUEL | Passion Fruit, Orange, Guava

The faster you recover, the more you improve! Don't let sore muscles or achy joints keep you away from your favorite activity. With nature's most potent source of nitrates, Rapid Recovery Fuel supports improved blood flow to help accelerate recovery. Plus, organic turmeric, rhodiola root, and organic tart cherry help to lower stress and activate your body's recuperative powers.

Coconut water is a source of electrolytes that promotes hydration. It also contains iron, magnesium, potassium, and phosphorus. This water is hypoallergenic and alkalizing, supporting the body's natural ability to maintain normal pH balance. Organic turmeric contains curcumin, which can support the body's natural ability to recover from exertion while also aiding the digestive process. Turmeric also contains iron, manganese, fiber, Vitamin B6, potassium, magnesium, and Vitamin C. As an adaptogen, rhodiola root is added to help the body adapt after a strenuous workout. Organic black pepper helps to support the absorption of other micro-nutrients, most notably curcumin. Organic tart cherry is an antioxidant that helps promote muscle health and joint comfort—perfect after prolonged physical exertion. Overall, Rapid Recovery Fuel supports the body's natural recovery process.
