Top 5 Female Musicians who Scream Style

Music is all about glitz, glamour and grandeur today. Some of the top female musicians of the day have an impeccable style statement to complement their arresting vocal prowess. These musicians have done as much, if not more, for the fashion industry as for the music zone. Today we take a pick of the top 5 female musicians who scream style in more ways than one!

Taylor Swift

She can launch a million copies of her records and can easily flaunt a million clothes without breaking into a sweat. When it comes to fashion for Taylor Swift, it is all about playful fun and casualness. You will find her rocking anything from her casual wear to her street style wardrobe. To top it, she has her signature red lipstick!

Rihanna

The diva is always making some noise about her bold fashion choices. Rihanna is prone to taking risks with her wardrobe, sometime going real heady with the risqué factor! She can look equally at ease in a sporty chic look to an ultra-glamorous avatar. You will find her in sexy shorts as well as in her own clothing line for River Island.

Selena Gomez

A Disney star in her early years, Selena Gomez has come a long way in the fashion street. Starting off with graphic tees, you associate Selena with high fashion today with equal élan. Her signature look is the low-profile boho. Selena has her own style line as well, called Dream Out Loud. Super-cool and chic are two keywords to describe the fashion statement of Selena Gomez.
