Keyboard Shortcut of the Week

HYPERLINK TEXT

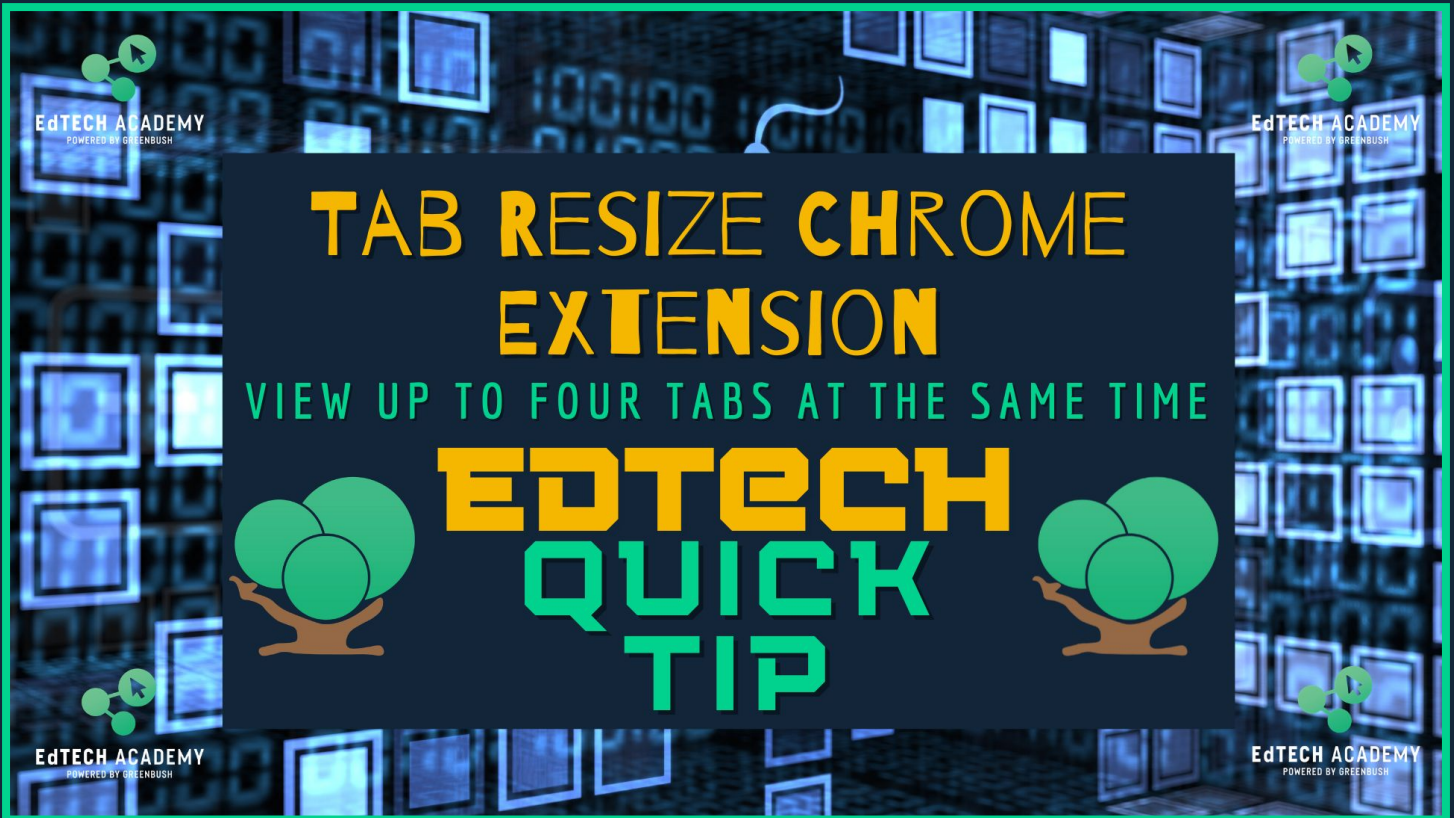

MAC - COMMAND + K

PC - CTRL + K

I'm a hyperlink...click me!

You don't have to right-click on that text to hyperlink. Use the keyboard shortcut above to make that process super quick. It works on text and images too. Try it out in Docs and Gmail!

Tab Resize Chrome Extension

View up to four tabs at the same time on one screen

Tab Resize is a Chrome Extension that grants you the ability to view up to four tabs simultaneously on the same display. See it in action in this week's EdTech Quick tip.

A Fun Virtual Activity to Engage and Dive Deep With Your Students

Sips vs. Gulps

Typically, the chat in Zoom consists of sip-types of questions. Where are you from? How is the meeting going? How's the weather? The chat can be a very powerful tool where you can have your participants provide gulps of information instead. The Youtube video linked below provides a really great example of how to accomplish this.
