

Freeview Application

The "Freeview" app should auto-install during the initial setup, this doesn't happen under the right conditions, such as not signing into a Google Account, or the Google Account used is registered outside New Zealand. The "Freeview" button won't function if the "Freeview" app is not installed.

Step 01: Ensure you've logged into a Google Account.

1. Press the Google Home button.
2. Select "Settings" in the top-right.
3. Scroll down to Accounts.
4. Ensure a Google Account is listed.
5. If not, select "Add Account".

Step 02: Install the "Freeview" app from the Play Store.

1. Press the Google Home button.
2. Press and hold the "APPS" button.
3. Select "GET MORE APPS" to open the Play Store.
4. Select the "Search" option in the top-left.
5. Enter "Freeview" into the search field.
6. Install the "Freeview" app.

If the "Freeview" app does not show in the search results, the Google Account used is not registered for New Zealand.

TIP: Try Factory Reset the TV Dongle to redo the initial setup.
Google Home > Settings > Storage & Reset > Factory Reset.
