Before you can start building up your catalog and selling deals on Goods Marketplace, you'll need to complete the account setup process.

We highly encourage merchants to consult our Gateway Account Setup Guide, which provides step-by-step instructions, as well as solutions for common errors encountered during account setup.

Service Level Agreement (SLA) Standards

Goods Marketplace has required performance standards for order fulfillment. Deadlines for tracking information uploads, tracking movement, and expected delivery time are applied uniformly across all merchants and deal listings.

Tracking Information Uploaded

1 business day after order placement

You must upload tracking information for all orders by their assigned due on date in Commerce Interface (CI), Groupon's fulfillment portal. Only carriers on our list of Approved Shipping Carriers for Goods Marketplace can be used. Do NOT upload a tracking number for your order until the package has been received by your carrier. Early/invalid tracking uploads will negatively impact your performance metrics, and could lead to suspension.

Order Showing Movement

3 Business Days after order is placed

Before your order can be processed for payment, your uploaded tracking information must show systemic MOVEMENT. Orders NOT showing movement within 5 days may be automatically refunded by Groupon.

Order Successfully Delivered

6 Calendar Days after order is placed

On-time deliveries play a crucial role in maintaining satisfactory performance metrics. All orders placed on Goods Marketplace are expected to be marked delivered after 6 calendar days, Late deliveries will negatively impact your performance metrics, and could lead to suspension.

Customer Tickets

1 Business Day to reply

Goods Marketplace uses a ticketing system to facilitate communications between merchants and their customers. Any new ticket or reply by a customer must receive a merchant response within One Business Day

Learn the function of Gateway's different Ticket Reply Types to manage your customer tickets most effectively.

Multiple orders can share a single Tracking Number only if the shipping addresses are identical.

Sometimes a merchant may receive multiple orders from the same customer. If the addresses are IDENTICAL, merchants may ship these orders with the same tracking number.

If you receive multiple orders from the same customer but the shipping addresses are not identical (including abbreviations and capitalization), you MUST ship these orders separately. Commerce Interface (CI) will not allow the same tracking number to be uploaded to more than one order if the shipping addresses are not identical.

Performance-Based System

Our highest priority on Goods Marketplace is providing a positive customer experience. Once you start selling on our platform, your performance will be measured using our Merchant Scorecard, which you will receive via email weekly.

Poor performance leads to Compliance Fees

Merchants failing to meet Goods Marketplace performance metric goals are at risk of having compliance fees applied to their account for related shipping and customer service issues.

Read through our Performance Goals for Merchant Scorecard, as well as the Non-Compliance Fee schedule so you can maintain these performance metrics and avoid deductions to your account. If deductions are applied, you will receive a weekly compliance report with those details so corrective action may be taken to avoid these issues and fees in the future.

We are happy to offer our third-party merchants a series of Training Guides, designed to quickly teach you everything you need to know about working as a merchant on Groupon Goods Marketplace.
