

WELCOME TO GAELSONG

At Beltane—May Day—in the Celtic lands, some villagers would slip out before dawn, returning from the woods with flower-laden branches to "bring in the May." To this day, many leave May baskets of flowers at neighbors' doors as a token of the season.

At GaelSong, we celebrate the Celts and their attunement to the changing seasons. We gather goods from around the world that reflect these traditions. We hope our products delight you as you celebrate the summer.
