6) Describe the Issuer’s Business, Products and Services

Adaptive Ad Systems, Inc. (“the Company”) represents the consolidated and merged companies Adaptive Media, Inc., which was incorporated in Nevada March 4, 2013, and Praebius Communications, Inc., which was incorporate in Nevada December 1994. Thus, the Company is the product of merging several longstanding business entities, assets and new state of the art technology. As a result of these combined activities, the Company is cash flow positive.

The Company is engaged in the cable television (CATV) and online media advertising business.. To pursue its business plans, the Company develops, manufactures, markets, deploys, and operates its video proprietary ad-insertion technology. All of the Company’s technology is “cloud-based,” which allows the Company to manage thousands of locations from a central hub with a minimal number of employees. This operational structure allows for advantageous scalability in the markets it pursues.

The Company’s unique technology enables the Company to build and create new business revenue segments in the traditional CATV industry and generate revenue by deploying its ad-insertion technology in previously un-served and under-served markets. Together, these segments comprise more than thirty million available households (referred to in the industry as “subs”).

The Company is already a leading turnkey technology based provider of CATV ad insertion and sales to the 2nd and 3rd tier cable operators. The Company is an independent provider of DMA (Designated Market Area) based Cable TV advertising sales and commercial delivery in the US.

Additionally, the Company is actively creating niche markets in University Campuses and Multi-Dwelling-Units (MDU's). The Company's main objective is to 1) create ad inventory on cable television systems across the country where there was no inventory before, and 2) deliver reliable, high quality representation of all newly-created advertising inventory.

In conducting its business, the Company also provides media solutions for local, regional and national advertisers by inserting advertising into major cable networks such as ESPN, MTV, DISCOVERY, CNN, LIFETIME, A&E, FOX NEWS, TNT and SPIKE, as well as providing advertising solutions to a large un-served market by utilizing our new technologies.

The Company provides advertising insertion products and services to cable television head-ends that are powered by both conventional and consumer satellite systems. The product takes the form of a digital computing device and switch matrix that is installed in a cable TV head-end. Our product provides insertion in conventional C-band and KU-band cable TV head-ends, and has a particular niche in those that are powered by previously unreachable direct to home satellite systems.

Our services includes acquiring advertising sales from local, regional and national advertisers, then scheduling, running and billing the advertising time. All operations are carried out in-house. There are over 210 designated marketing areas in the United States and the Company has already deployed its technology into many of these markets in 40 states. The Company does not sell its technology and, therefore, installs its own product and maintains full ownership and control.

Due to the growth of mobile technology (cell phones and tablets), today's advertisers are learning the value of splitting their advertising spending between cable television and digital banners and video ads inserted onto websites, as well as apps on mobile phones & tablets. The Company has engaged Neovix, Inc., a web development and streaming media company, to develop a network of websites hosted on a proprietary hosting platform and digital advertising networks that will run parallel to the Company's CATV advertising system. This platform will provide new revenue from the "value-added" offering of web hosting and banner advertising for businesses in and around the markets where the Company supplies its CATV advertisement services. This expands the advertising offered by the Company's sales team to include online advertising, website development & hosting, along with its conventional television advertising offerings.
