

An Antitrust War Against Private Equity?

David H. Evans

October 27, 2022

In this article, David Evans addresses comments made recently in a speech by Deputy Assistant Attorney General Andrew Forman on the importance of vigorous antitrust enforcement in health care. The author says that many of Deputy Assistant Attorney General Forman's assertions were incorrect as a matter of sound economics and policy and that some could have a significant negative effect on how private equity operates at least in the next couple years, and, therefore, may require some changes to approach.

To read full article click here.