

Associate Appointed Chief Representative for International Technology Law Association

December 27, 2006

Associate Deepak Nambiar was appointed Chief Representative for the International Technology Law Association in New York. The International Technology Law Association is the leading global organization for legal professionals focused on technology law. As Chief Representative, Mr. Nambiar will be responsible for facilitating the involvement of technology lawyers to expand their ability to service their clients and provide networking opportunities.