

Avoiding Pitfalls and Trolls in Payment Agreements: Understanding How AI, Open Source and Licenses Impact the Payment Industry

Firm Event

July 31, 2025 from 12:00 pm to 1:00 pm (CDT)

The last place companies want to find themselves is litigation over a payments agreement. But misunderstandings and misinterpretations can turn industry partners into adversaries. This must-attend CLE for payments attorneys will get past the boilerplate and give attendees an understanding of the “how and why” of payment agreements’ intellectual property rights. We will discuss the treatment of open-source code and AI and how to escape patent trolls lurking behind broad patents. Attendees will learn how to protect trade secrets amid the legal uncertainty of non-compete agreements. This CLE will use interactive case-studies to illuminate best practices for legal professionals.
