

Court Finds Target "Clean" - Washing Complaint Will Move Forward

Katie Rogers, Gregory T. Berman

October 18, 2024

Last week, a federal court in the District of Minnesota struck down Target's motion to dismiss a class action complaint against the company for its "Target Clean" line of beauty products, because the Court said it could not declare as a matter of law that the Target Clean program is incapable of deceiving a reasonable consumer. As the court put it, "the reasonableness of Plaintiffs' expectations remains up for strenuous debate."

www.kelleydrye.com/viewpoints/blog...ll-move-forward