Brenna Woodley co-authored "COVID-19: Employment Law Update and Guidance for Employers," which was published by BenefitsPRO.

The article addresses frequently asked questions from employers across industries in light of the continuing COVID-19 crisis. They have attempted to provide advice for employers in all different stages of the COVID-19 crisis and recognize that some advice will not apply to all employers, particularly depending on what state and local orders are (or are not) in place.
