

Currency Protectionism

Gregory J. Mastel

April 14, 2014

Senior International Trade/Tax Advisor Greg Mastel authored the International Economy article "Currency Protectionism." The article discusses efforts in the United States to link international trade agreements to exchange rates, as many countries use currency manipulation in order to discourage imports and encourage exports. Greg provides an overview of the U.S. Congress's role in currency manipulation and explains the current debate.
