

Donnelly McDowell Quoted on State MAHA Laws

September 19, 2025

Partner and Advertising and Marketing practice leader Donnelly McDowell was quoted in “Food Companies Face Growing Patchwork of State MAHA Laws” by Law.com. The article covers the Make America Healthy Again (MAHA) food related legislation in a number of states. The regulatory push is from many Republican-controlled states, which Donnelly says represents a big shift in food regulation. He also mentions the compliance challenges that come from this changing landscape.

Donnelly further explains that “the patchwork of similar but not identical laws will be a significant compliance challenge, since separate products and labels for each state is likely a “non-starter” for major food companies.”

Read the full article here.