

Drug Shortages in the U.S. and the World: A Public Forum

New York City Bar Event

Speaking Engagement

October 22, 2012 from 6:30 pm to 9:00 pm (EDT)

New York

House of the Association
42 West 44th Street

Associate Clifford Katz spoke on a panel at a New York City Bar Event on October 22, 2012. The panel, titled “Drug Shortages in the U.S. and the World: A Public Forum,” is a comprehensive conversation among experts in the fields of pharmaceutical, patent, regulatory, and health law with clinical pharmacology and international public health professionals, about the complex issues leading to shortages, the medical impact, and the challenges faced in finding reasonable solutions. Other panelists included Janet McLeod, Ph.D., Fox Rothchild, LLP; Afia Asamoah, Covington and Burling, LLP; Marcus Reidenberg, M.D., Professor of Pharmacology, Medicine and Public Health and Assistant Dean, Cornell Weill Medical College; Attending Physician, New York-Presbyterian Hospital; Maya Sabatello, Ph.D, LLB, Harvard Medical School, New York University; and Phoebe Stone, Zaroff & Zaroff LLP and Save Lives Now New York (General Counsel & Bioethicist).

Related Services

Trademark and Copyright Litigation

Food and Drug