

FCC Names Six USAC Board Members

January 11, 2011

Yesterday, the FCC announced the appointment of six members to USAC's Board of Directors. Don't expect much change in the way USAC operates, however: five of the six members are current members of USAC's board. The only new board member is Jose Manuel Jimenez of Cox Communications, who fills a vacant position reserved for cable operators.

One position -- a board position reserved for interexchange carriers with more than $3 billion in annual revenues -- remains vacant. See the FCC's public notice seeking nominations here.

The six board members are listed below.

The six board members named were:

- Representative for commercial mobile radio service providers: Scott Bergmann, Assistant Vice President for Regulatory Affairs, CTIA
- Representative for schools that are eligible to receive discounts: Anne Bryant, Executive Director, National School Boards Association
- Representative for libraries that are eligible to receive discounts: Anne Campbell, Consultant, ALC Consulting
- Representative for cable operators: Jose Manuel Jimenez, Executive Director, Regulatory Policy & Industry Relations, Cox Communications, Inc.
- Representative for state consumer advocates: Wayne Jortner, Senior Counsel, State of Maine Office of the Public Advocate
- Representative for non-rural incumbent LECs: Joel Lubin, Vice President-Public Policy, AT&T Services, Inc.

Congratulations to each board member. For more on USAC and the Universal Service Fund, visit the Universal Service links in our Resource Center.
