

FCC's New Consent Rules for Text and Voice Telemarketing

Law Seminars International

Speaking Engagement

January 15, 2014

New Jersey

On January 15, 2014 partner Lauri A. Mazzuchetti spoke at Law Seminars International's Telebriefing titled "FCC's New Consent Rules for Text and Voice Telemarketing." The telebriefing reviewed the new FCC rules from a compliance perspective, and offered practical suggestions on how to obtain consents from prospective customers. She discussed proposals to modify the rules for prior customers, the impact of these rules on class action litigation involving the TCPA and the details of what will qualify as express written consent under the FCC's new rules.

For more information, please click here.

Related Services

Communications

Litigation

Telephone Consumer Protection Act (TCPA) Defense