

Ad Law Access Podcast: Guidance for Retailers

Christie Grymes Thompson

April 22, 2020

As retailers have shifted to online and ship to store/ship from store sales, we've been getting a variety of questions from our retailing clients.

On the latest episode of the Ad Law Access Podcast, Advertising and Marketing chair Christie Grymes Thompson answers retailer questions regarding pricing, shipping, refunds, customer reviews, and telethermographic cameras (cameras that can detect human temperature).

Listen on Apple, Google Podcasts, SoundCloud, Spotify, or wherever you get your podcasts.

For more information on these and other topics, visit the COVID-19 Response Resource Center and Advertising and Privacy Law Resource Center.

Getting Back to Work Webinar The coronavirus threat will still be active when many employers begin to return their employees to the job. What will you do when employees refuse to return? When some have been sick but not diagnosed? When social distancing measures remain in place? When some parts of the country (or even your city) are "more open" than others? What should employers do to prepare?

In Part I of this two-part series, L&E Group co-chairs Barbara Hoey and Mark Konkell will guide employers through the snares of legal, logistical and practical considerations as the nation returns to work.

Register Here

