

How To Avoid Legal Pitfalls With A Hybrid Workforce

2022 WORKing Lunch Series

Firm Event

June 28, 2022 from 12:30 pm to 1:30 pm (EDT)

New York

The pandemic solidified many employees' preference for remote work. As companies rolled out their return-to-office plans, they were faced with increasing employee demands for remote and hybrid work arrangements. There's no question that the future workplace may require a combination of in-office and remote work in order to retain a strong and cohesive workforce, reduce turnover and attract top talent. But how can employers facilitate a new, hybrid workplace without resulting in a compliance nightmare?

This webinar covers:

- Important considerations when building a hybrid work model and for supporting remote workers
- Wage and hour concerns with a hybrid workforce
- Necessary policies and procedures to sustain an effective hybrid workplace

Watch the recording of this webinar here.

This webinar is part of the 2022 WORKing Lunch Series. Click here for more information.

Related Services

Employment Litigation

Labor and Employment Counseling and Compliance

Employment and Employee Benefits