

Kelley Drye Joins Law Firm Antiracism Alliance

June 25, 2020

It is clear that long-standing issues of racial inequality within our society must be addressed. While the acknowledgement of this deep rooted problem and observance of Juneteenth are important, we also believe that action is needed. That is why Kelley Drye is joining more than 120 other firms in establishing the Law Firm Antiracism Alliance (LFAA). As a member of this alliance, we will dedicate substantial pro bono resources to address systemic racism in a long-term, and collaborative way, and will consider what we can do within Kelley Drye to build a stronger and more inclusive community.

Click here to view American Lawyer article on the alliance formation. Subscription may be required.