

Kelley Drye Named "Best International Law Firm of the Year"

March 29, 2016

Kelley Drye and Warren LLP was named the "Best International Law Firm of the Year" by Legal Era Magazine's 2016 Legal Era Awards. In addition to the firm's honor, Partner Deepak Nambiar was given the "Star Young Achievers Award of the Year" in the law firm category.

The awards were selected by a jury that included CEOs, judges, senior law firm partners and General Counsel. Deepak Nambiar, partner of the firm's India practice, and Paul F. Doyle, partner of Kelley Drye's litigation practice, accepted the award on behalf of the firm.

Legal Era Magazine's annual awards were held at the Legal Era Gennext Counsel Congress & Awards in Mumbai. This year's event focused on "Business, leadership and law: Global exchanges on business trends and challenges." During the three day conference, Mr. Doyle was a panelist for a discussion entitled "Dispute Resolution: Best Practices & Effective Cost Management" and Mr. Nambiar moderated a panel entitled "Mergers & Acquisitions - How To Excel In This Sphere."

For more than 40 years, Kelley Drye has delivered quality legal services to both U.S. and other international clients in their Indian business relationships, and to Indian businesses operating in the United States. Kelley Drye's India practice is well-positioned to navigate India's complex, evolving business and regulatory landscape - the firm's longstanding relationships with multinational entities and our in-depth knowledge of the Indian legal and regulatory bodies provide unique value to Kelley Drye's clients.
