For the eighth year in a row, Kelley Drye partner and India practice group chair Deepak Nambiar has been named among the India Business Law Journal's (IBLJ) 2026 A-list of international lawyers.

Specifically, Deepak is praised in the 2026 A-list as “a seasoned lawyer who can handle the most complex matters at ease, being solution-oriented and balanced on risk mitigation.”

The A-list comprises lawyers who are “trusted by Indian clients not only for their legal knowhow, but also for their responsiveness, commercial judgement, and cultural fluency.” IBLJ also describes those in the list as “the people Indian general counsel and law firm partners call to untangle multi-jurisdictional disputes, navigate unfamiliar regulatory environments, or close high-stakes deals on tight schedules.”

The A-list is based on the collective views of private practice lawyers in India and in-house counsel around the world. To learn more and read IBLJ's complete editorial report, click here.
