

Kelley Drye Partners Laura Riposo VanDruff and Paul Singer Quoted in Broadband Breakfast

March 30, 2022

As the federal government has yet to deliver concrete privacy legislation, some states have been finding success emulating the Colorado, California and Virginia consumer protection models. Laura Riposo VanDruff and Paul Singer are quoted in a recent article that ran in Broadband Breakfast and National Cyber Security News Today discussing how new state-level privacy bills have many similarities with existing ones, and how more original bills gain less traction.
