

Kelley Drye Strengthens Government Contracts Practice With Seasoned Advisor

September 17, 2014

Partner David T. Hickey has joined Kelley Drye & Warren LLP in the Government Contracts practice group, where they will advise on federal procurement, Department of Defense, veteran's affairs, homeland security, national defense, and aerospace legal and legislative issues.

Most recently, Mr. Hickey served as a partner in Barnes & Thornburg LLP's Corporate Department. Previously, he was a shareholder at Greenberg Traurig LLP and in-house counsel for General Dynamics Advanced Information Systems. In addition to his private sector experience, Mr. Hickey also served as a staff investigator for the United States Senate Committee on governmental affairs and special investigations. He also was a manager in the United States House of Representatives, Office of the Clerk, where he implemented congressional ethics responsibilities under the Lobbying Disclosure Act, Ethics in Government Act, Congressional Mailing Standards, House Gift and Travel Rules and the Federal Election Campaign Act. He is a former Army infantry officer.

"We're delighted to have David join the firm," said the managing partner of the Washington, D.C. office. "With his extensive military, Capitol Hill, and legal experience, he brings unique insight into the Washington, D.C. defense business sector, which will be a tremendous asset to our clients that sell to the government."

Gary Klein of Klein Landau and Romm placed Mr. Hickey.

About Kelley Drye's Government Contracts Group:

Kelley Drye's Government Contracts practice helps companies meet the challenges inherent in navigating the increasingly competitive, and highly regulated, federal and international public procurement marketplace. Our attorneys leverage the resources of a multidisciplinary law firm – including a bipartisan government relations team that has significant credibility with decision-makers at all levels of the federal government, and nationally recognized international trade and litigation practices – to assist clients with the full spectrum of issues that arise from government procurement. No matter how small or large the issue, we provide cost-effective legal counsel with the goal of minimizing risk and avoiding disputes.
